

Our Story in a Nut Shell

Our Fall Line of Goods is "up to the minute" as we constantly watch the market for new and worthy goods, and we respectfully invite your attention to our line of

Tailored and Fancy

Waists

Latest Novelties in Neckwear, Belts, Etc
"Smart Set" Silk Petticoats
Mannish Novelties in Woolen Goods for Tailored Suits
Newest Designs in Silks for Waists and Dresses
Call and see us as we are now ready to take care of you on all Fall and Winter Goods

OWEN McKEE

The Richmond Climax.

PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY BY THE CLIMAX PRINTING CO.
(Incorporated.)

A. D. Miller Pres. and Mgr.
W. G. White Sec'y-Treas.

Member of
KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION
and
EIGHTH DISTRICT PUBLISHERS LEAGUE.

PRICE $1.00 PER YEAR
IN ADVANCE

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 19 - 1912

Administration of the government by Republicans is a good thing for John D. Rockefeller. Through the collection of railroad rebates, a practice that his competitors were not allowed to indulge in, and aided by a tariff "wall" which enabled him to build up a monopoly without fear of competition from abroad, he has built up a $900,000,000 fortune. From the oil industry, and subsidiary industries, which the high tariff advocates still refer to as "infants," yet in need of a protective tariff, Mr. Rockefeller derives an income of approximately $2 a second. The Rockefeller income at the present time, as near as financial experts have been able to estimate it, is $90,000,000 a year. $3,000,000 a month, $1,125,000 a week, $164,725 a day, $6,900 an hour, $114 a minute, or $1.90 a second. A working girl in a store for $5 a week, would have to labor 4,428 years to earn as much as the unequal, unfair and unjust laws of this nation permit Rockefeller to draw down every week. William Wood, president of the woolen trust, testified in court not long ago that he had no idea as to the number of automobiles he owned. J. P. Morgan, who was recently announced, now has an art collection worth $60,000. Andrew Carnegie, it is well known, has "lost all track" of his wealth. These are the plunderers of America. In order that the plunderers of America, who have built up a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a "boss." Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political "boss." George W. Perkins, who organized the illegal harvester trust, and is financing Roosevelt's campaign, according to sworn statements of the Roosevelt campaign committee, is not a "boss." The millionaire owners of the woolen trust and the sugar trust and the steel trust are not "bosses." The "boss" issue is largely a false issue. The men who are plundering the people directly, and making the common people dissatisfied with the way things are going under this form of government are chiefly the multi-millionaire owners of the tariff trusts, now engaged in financing the Roosevelt campaign in order to return the Colonel to the White House so that he can give instructions to his Attorney General not to start suits against illegal trusts, like the harvester trust, until he "gives the word."

The annual mid-summer meeting of the Kentucky Press Association, held at Olympia Springs last week, was pronounced by those in attendance to have been the most instructive and interesting sessions in recent years. A large number of newspaper men from over the State were present and participated in the deliberations of that body, and, as usual, wives and sweethearts were present to add grace and dignity to the occasion. Olympia Springs is one of the most beautiful spots we have ever visited in Kentucky, an ideal location—surrounded by scenic beauty, second to no summer resort in the State. The buildings are new, well lighted, ventilated, clean and cheerful. The management of this popular institution did everything possible to make the stay of the press crowd pleasant and enjoyable, and to say that he succeeded is but mildly expressing the feelings of those who spent the past week at Olympia. The inner man was provided for abundantly, every delicacy of the season, as well as the substantial, was served at every meal, and it was with great reluctance that the editors, their wives and sweethearts, departed from this beautiful and popular summer resort.

In cold storage at Detroit, Mich., are 15,000 quarts of fresh berries. These are the plunderers of America. In order that the plunderers of America, who have built up a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a "boss." Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political "boss." George W. Perkins, who

Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly denounced "boss rule" during his campaign. He has held up to scorn the Penrose, the Loomis, and the Coxes and other bosses not for Roosevelt as typifying the evils of present day politics. Every one admits that such men as these should be ousted from power. But are these men, after all, really the greatest danger to this Republic? John D. Rockefeller, who has hoarded up a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a "boss." Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political "boss." George W. Perkins, who

Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly denounced "boss rule" during his campaign. He has held up to scorn the Penrose, the Loomis, and the Coxes and other bosses not for Roosevelt as typifying the evils of present day politics. Every one admits that such men as these should be ousted from power. But are these men, after all, really the greatest danger to this Republic? John D. Rockefeller, who has hoarded up a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a "boss." Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political "boss." George W. Perkins, who

Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly denounced "boss rule" during his campaign. He has held up to scorn the Penrose, the Loomis, and the Coxes and other bosses not for Roosevelt as typifying the evils of present day politics. Every one admits that such men as these should be ousted from power. But are these men, after all, really the greatest danger to this Republic? John D. Rockefeller, who has hoarded up a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a "boss." Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political "boss." George W. Perkins, who

Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly denounced "boss rule" during his campaign. He has held up to scorn the Penrose, the Loomis, and the Coxes and other bosses not for Roosevelt as typifying the evils of present day politics. Every one admits that such men as these should be ousted from power. But are these men, after all, really the greatest danger to this Republic? John D. Rockefeller, who has hoarded up a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a "boss." Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political "boss." George W. Perkins, who

Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly denounced "boss rule" during his campaign. He has held up to scorn the Penrose, the Loomis, and the Coxes and other bosses not for Roosevelt as typifying the evils of present day politics. Every one admits that such men as these should be ousted from power. But are these men, after all, really the greatest danger to this Republic? John D. Rockefeller, who has hoarded up a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a "boss." Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political "boss." George W. Perkins, who

Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly denounced "boss rule" during his campaign. He has held up to scorn the Penrose, the Loomis, and the Coxes and other bosses not for Roosevelt as typifying the evils of present day politics. Every one admits that such men as these should be ousted from power. But are these men, after all, really the greatest danger to this Republic? John D. Rockefeller, who has hoarded up a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a "boss." Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political "boss." George W. Perkins, who

Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly denounced "boss rule" during his campaign. He has held up to scorn the Penrose, the Loomis, and the Coxes and other bosses not for Roosevelt as typifying the evils of present day politics. Every one admits that such men as these should be ousted from power. But are these men, after all, really the greatest danger to this Republic? John D. Rockefeller, who has hoarded up a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a "boss." Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political "boss." George W. Perkins, who

Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly denounced "boss rule" during his campaign. He has held up to scorn the Penrose, the Loomis, and the Coxes and other bosses not for Roosevelt as typifying the evils of present day politics. Every one admits that such men as these should be ousted from power. But are these men, after all, really the greatest danger to this Republic? John D. Rockefeller, who has hoarded up a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a "boss." Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political "boss." George W. Perkins, who

Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly denounced "boss rule" during his campaign. He has held up to scorn the Penrose, the Loomis, and the Coxes and other bosses not for Roosevelt as typifying the evils of present day politics. Every one admits that such men as these should be ousted from power. But are these men, after all, really the greatest danger to this Republic? John D. Rockefeller, who has hoarded up a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a "boss." Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political "boss." George W. Perkins, who

Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly denounced "boss rule" during his campaign. He has held up to scorn the Penrose, the Loomis, and the Coxes and other bosses not for Roosevelt as typifying the evils of present day politics. Every one admits that such men as these should be ousted from power. But are these men, after all, really the greatest danger to this Republic? John D. Rockefeller, who has hoarded up a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a "boss." Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political "boss." George W. Perkins, who

Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly denounced "boss rule" during his campaign. He has held up to scorn the Penrose, the Loomis, and the Coxes and other bosses not for Roosevelt as typifying the evils of present day politics. Every one admits that such men as these should be ousted from power. But are these men, after all, really the greatest danger to this Republic? John D. Rockefeller, who has hoarded up a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a "boss." Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political "boss." George W. Perkins, who

Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly denounced "boss rule" during his campaign. He has held up to scorn the Penrose, the Loomis, and the Coxes and other bosses not for Roosevelt as typifying the evils of present day politics. Every one admits that such men as these should be ousted from power. But are these men, after all, really the greatest danger to this Republic? John D. Rockefeller, who has hoarded up a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a "boss." Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political "boss." George W. Perkins, who

Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly denounced "boss rule" during his campaign. He has held up to scorn the Penrose, the Loomis, and the Coxes and other bosses not for Roosevelt as typifying the evils of present day politics. Every one admits that such men as these should be ousted from power. But are these men, after all, really the greatest danger to this Republic? John D. Rockefeller, who has hoarded up a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a "boss." Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political "boss." George W. Perkins, who

Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly denounced "boss rule" during his campaign. He has held up to scorn the Penrose, the Loomis, and the Coxes and other bosses not for Roosevelt as typifying the evils of present day politics. Every one admits that such men as these should be ousted from power. But are these men, after all, really the greatest danger to this Republic? John D. Rockefeller, who has hoarded up a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a "boss." Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political "boss." George W. Perkins, who

Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly denounced "boss rule" during his campaign. He has held up to scorn the Penrose, the Loomis, and the Coxes and other bosses not for Roosevelt as typifying the evils of present day politics. Every one admits that such men as these should be ousted from power. But are these men, after all, really the greatest danger to this Republic? John D. Rockefeller, who has hoarded up a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a "boss." Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political "boss." George W. Perkins, who

Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly denounced "boss rule" during his campaign. He has held up to scorn the Penrose, the Loomis, and the Coxes and other bosses not for Roosevelt as typifying the evils of present day politics. Every one admits that such men as these should be ousted from power. But are these men, after all, really the greatest danger to this Republic? John D. Rockefeller, who has hoarded up a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a "boss." Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political "boss." George W. Perkins, who

Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly denounced "boss rule" during his campaign. He has held up to scorn the Penrose, the Loomis, and the Coxes and other bosses not for Roosevelt as typifying the evils of present day politics. Every one admits that such men as these should be ousted from power. But are these men, after all, really the greatest danger to this Republic? John D. Rockefeller, who has hoarded up a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a "boss." Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political "boss." George W. Perkins, who

Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly denounced "boss rule" during his campaign. He has held up to scorn the Penrose, the Loomis, and the Coxes and other bosses not for Roosevelt as typifying the evils of present day politics. Every one admits that such men as these should be ousted from power. But are these men, after all, really the greatest danger to this Republic? John D. Rockefeller, who has hoarded up a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a "boss." Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political "boss." George W. Perkins, who

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

Home of Interest Regarding Home-Work and Others.

Miss Marguerite Myers has returned from a stay in Florida.

Prof. and Mrs. Bridges have returned from a visit to Ohio.

Mrs. T. S. Todd was a guest of friends in Louisville last week.

Superintendent John Noland was in Frankfort last week on business.

Mrs. W. F. and W. Q. Park were in Lexington Thursday on business.

Mr. Harvey Neff, of DeKalb, Ill., is in Richmond for his summer vacation.

Miss Judith Tudor, of Irvine, is the guest of Mrs. W. W. Page on West Main street.

Miss Harriett Parrish is the guest of her brother, Douglas Parrish, at Beattyville.

Miss Elizabeth Powell, of Winchester, is visiting friends and relatives in the city.

Miss Ruth Crowe has returned from a visit to her sister, Mrs. Hunt, of St. Helens, Ky.

Mrs. J. W. Stewart and little daughter, Elizabeth Bird, are visiting in Elizabethtown.

Mr. Allen Zaring was a guest last week of Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Kenney in Shelbyville.

Miss Marianne Collins is at home from a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Lena Wagner, in Chicago.

Mr. G. C. S. Bradley went to Louisville Monday, where he will spend the summer.

Mrs. Sallie Rayburn has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. P. Gregory, in Lancaster.

Miss Jamie Caperton is in Louisville, enjoying a delightful visit to Miss Sallie Ewing Marshall.

Mrs. David Arnold, of Nicholasville, has returned after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hawkins.

Mrs. James Winn, of Winchester, has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Robert Miller, on Lancaster avenue.

Mrs. T. T. Covington and daughter, Miss Helen Covington, have returned from a visit to Winchester.

Mrs. Mary Sanderson, of New York, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Thompson Burman, in Burnamwood.

Mr. Walter Bennett left Saturday for New Haven, Conn., to attend the reunion of his class at Yale College.

Mrs. C. C. Wallace and John R. Gibson are attending the Republican National Convention in Chicago.

Miss Mary Lee Colyer is at home to spend her vacation. She will resume her school at Ft. Thomas in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Smith are the guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Francis Smith, at Lancaster avenue.

Mrs. T. T. Appleyard, of Arcadia, Fla., is at home for the summer. Mr. Appleyard will join her here Saturday.

Miss Sue Scribner is at home from Winchester, having taught in the public school in that city during the past year.

Mrs. Ellen Wallace, of Irvine, returned home Saturday after a visit to her sons, Messrs. C. C. and Daniel Wallace.

Mrs. G. G. Perry and daughter, Bettie McCann, are visiting her brother, Mr. McCann, at Richmond—Interior Journal.

Mrs. John S. Park, of Las Vegas, Nevada, daughter of Hon. W. B. Smith, returned for a visit to her father's family.

Mrs. Walter Q. Park and mother, Mrs. I. H. Boothe, left last week for Ohio, where they will visit friends and relatives for a few days.

Col. W. P. Walton, Secretary National Citizens' League, with headquarters in Louisville, attended the Eighth District Bankers Association here Tuesday.

Mr. Wilson Eads, of near Union City, spent an attack of appendicitis last week, but late reports from his bedside are to the effect that he is considerably improved.

Miss Kate Schmidt attended the commencement exercises of Transylvania Law School, Lexington, last week. Her cousin, Miss Mayne Schmidt, was one of the graduates.

Misses Mary Brooks and Elizabeth Lynne are the attractive guests of Miss Anne Bennett Cohen. Miss Cohen entertained last night at her home from 2 to 5 in honor of her visitors.

Mrs. R. E. Quisenberry and Miss Rebecca will leave today for Portsmouth, Va., for a visit to the former's mother, Mrs. J. E. Quisenberry. They expect to be gone about fifteen days.

a distance who are enjoying the festivities incident to the occasion are: Miss Lucy Clay Woodford and her daughter, Mr. Sterling; Miss Mary Wright, Sharpshooter; Miss Lydia Elmore, Laney; Miss Ann M. Roberts, Stanford; Miss Martha Chandler Van Meter, Winchester; Miss Florence Ray Evans, Winchester; and Miss Margaret Van Meter, Lexington.

A number of entertainments have been given in honor of those who compose the above house party, among them being a dance Thursday night at the beautiful home of Miss Jamie Caperton; a tennis party by Miss Elizabeth Shuckles on Thursday afternoon; a dance Friday night at Masonic Temple by the young men of Richmond; a tennis party at the suburban home of Mrs. H. B. Hanger Monday afternoon, followed by a picnic party at Lake Reba Tuesday by the hosts.

The Cecilia Club closed the season with a delightful meeting Wednesday with Mrs. Neale Bennett on West Main street. This musical organization has grown very rapidly during the past few years and the season of 1911-12 was one of the most successful and prosperous in the history of the club. The following program was led by Mrs. Bennett: Roll Call—American Vocalists. Four Hands—Venezian March—Mrs. Pickett—Mrs. Middleton. Paper—Maude Powell, Violinist—Mrs. A. B. Burman.

Piano—Meditation—Leeds. Voice—Romance—Haley. Paper—Mrs. Neale Bennett. Voice—A Lover's Call—Ruckauf. Piano—Sonata—Mrs. Caperton.

Piano—Sonata—Mrs. Caperton. Voice—A I Know a Garden—Yanah. Voice—A I Know a Garden—Yanah. After being admitted to the bar, he formed a partnership with Hon. H. B. King, who shortly thereafter located in Fort Worth, Texas, where he has made a great success as a lawyer and businessman.

In 1885 Judge Sullivan was nominated and elected county attorney of Madison county without opposition. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

HON. J. A. SULLIVAN

Brief Sketch of Candidate From Madison for Democratic Nominee for Congress. His Record is Worthy of Emulation.

Hon. J. A. Sullivan, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in this District, is a man of large business and political experience and is thoroughly qualified to occupy the responsible position which he seeks.

He was born near Richmond during the Civil War. While a subject of this sketch was very young his father died leaving a widow and seven children in poverty. The mother inspired the children in early life with a desire for a good education and all of them responded and used every honorable effort to secure it.

Sullivan was educated in the common and private schools of Richmond until he entered the University of Louisville. He graduated from that institution with the highest honors of his class.

During the war he was usually called upon as a hand on the adjoining farms in order to secure funds with which to purchase books and other necessities. Shortly after his graduation he served as deputy circuit clerk and deputy circuit clerk of Madison county and at the same time read law under the late T. J. Scott who subsequently became circuit judge.

After being admitted to the bar, he formed a partnership with Hon. H. B. King, who shortly thereafter located in Fort Worth, Texas, where he has made a great success as a lawyer and businessman.

In 1885 Judge Sullivan was nominated and elected county attorney of Madison county without opposition. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party.

Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 1912 legislature and was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term as a member of the legislature, his practice which required all his time.

His record as county attorney was very successful. He was a member of the 191